

bilateral meeting with Internacional Organization for Migration

26 Apr. 2023

26 Apr. 2023

- The Migration Governance Indicators team of the International Organization for Migration sought me via Véronique Lamontagne, who knows Metropolis well as former director for International Affairs in Montréal, and now is a consultant for them. They work with cities to help them produce indicators on how they are doing on migrant integration, and see Metropolis as a potential partner to reach out to them. I think there is some potential to work with them, because they are able to raise the resources needed and can provide clear support to cities, but, given that migration is not a priority topic, I would not be proactive, just responsive to their further proposals.
