02 Oct. 2021

This session is designed to explore the future of our cities and planning profession with the involvement of the youngest generation. Since 1991, ISOCARP offers various platforms to engage young planning professionals in activating knowledge for better cities. While celebrating the 30th Anniversary, young planning professionals of the ISOCARP legacy present passionate debate on the ways of re-thinking and co-acting for more liveable, sustainable, resilient, creative, inclusive, innovative, and healthy cities. The session will be concluded with a discussion about how the global networks can serve better the new generation, and about the future of planning through the fresh eyes of the young.

Moderator: Zeynep Günay, Assoc. Prof., Director, Young Planning Professionals Programme, International Society of City and Regional Planners (ISOCARP) + YPP's from different continents
